From the Missionary – Bro. Danny Fudge

I begin this report with two thoughts in mind; Praise the LORD and Thank you! In 2010 I began asking pastors if I could come and share with their churches what God had laid on our hearts (Penny and me) for Omaha, Nebraska. We believed that God was going to do something here and had invited us to join Him. And He has done great things.

Pinecrest Baptist Church has been an amazing, faithful church; praying, supporting, visiting, and always being there and here for Penny and me. I can never fully express my deep gratitude to them and for them for walking beside us in this grand adventure.

Pastor Jeff Haney has been my pastor, my guide and my friend. His continual encouragement and vision has shaped me and the work here. His prayers, concern, leadership and presence has given us stability and confidence. He and Pinecrest have given us direction and freedom to minister as God led and the people needed.

To you supporting churches thank you for allowing me to present the work all those years ago and for supporting us since God laid the burden on your hearts. Eternity alone will reveal the fruit of your investment in the Midwest. As you know Immanuel is the only work in the state of Nebraska and there is only one mission in Iowa. We have strived to be a shining light in the heart of our nation.

We are also indebted to the many groups that have “come along side” us by making mission/ministry trips over the years. Those groups have encouraged my family and our people, evangelized the lost, enhanced our building and made a tremendous difference in the Omaha Metropolitan area.

Before we moved here, I was asked by a well-meaning pastor; “What makes you think you can build a church in Omaha?” My response was then and still is, “I can’t. The Lord told me to make disciples and He would build His church.” He has. Praise the Lord.

By the goodness of God and the generosity of our people, we no longer need monthly financial support from wonderful churches like you. Thank you for standing with us since the beginning.

Blessings,

Danny
